Profile

Georgia — Saburtalo Tbilisi

A midfielder who built an entire career in Eastern Europe. Six seasons at Saburtalo brought the Georgian championship in 2018, the David Kipiani Cup in 2019 and the Georgian Super Cup in 2020.

Armenia — Ararat-Armenia

Signed in 2021, he has won the Armenian Cup in 2023-24, the club's first, the Armenian Super Cup in 2024 and the Armenian Premier League in 2025-26, with Champions League and Conference League qualifying football along the way. 278 senior appearances and 17 goals.

Kenya

He has two caps for the Harambee Stars.

Cup and continental record

With Saburtalo Tbilisi: the David Kipiani Cup in 2019 and the Georgian Super Cup in 2020. With Ararat-Armenia: the Armenian Cup in 2023-24, the club's first, and the Armenian Super Cup in 2024 — with UEFA Champions League and Conference League qualifying football across both spells.

Managers he played under

At Saburtalo Tbilisi he won the Georgian championship under Gia Chiabrishvili and later played under Khvicha Shubitidze, before six seasons and four trophies at Ararat-Armenia.

Did you know

Six years in Georgia, and a title nobody at home reported

He left Nairobi for Saburtalo Tbilisi in 2015 and stayed six seasons, winning the Georgian championship in 2018, the David Kipiani Cup in 2019, the Super Cup in 2020 and another cup in 2021. It is one of the most decorated Kenyan club careers of the period, won in a league almost nobody in Kenya was following.

Did you know

He moved to Armenia because his residency was running out

When his Georgian contract and residency were both expiring, the realistic alternative was going home to a league that could not pay him — so in July 2021 he signed for Ararat-Armenia to keep the career alive. Since then: the Armenian Cup in 2023-24, the Super Cup in 2024 and the Armenian championship in 2025-26. His first Kenya cap came in November 2021, six years after he left.
